COURSE DESCRIPTION

The thematic units in English 1, Part 2 CP take students through literature and informational texts to gain an understanding of the importance of pursuing dreams and of feeling the power of love. Unit 1: Dreams and Aspirations examines what makes a dream worth pursuing. Unit 2: All for Love asks students to consider the unit's central question—How are we affected by the power of love?—and provides a range of texts, including the most famous one about love—Shakespeare's Tragedy of Romeo and Juliet—as well as current scientific texts that are attempting to find an answer to why we love.

Unit 3: Dreams and Aspirations develops students' grade-level goal of proficiently reading and comprehending a range of genres and text types, including a short story, a poem, excerpts from two novels, several examples of literary nonfiction and other informational texts, including speeches, a letter to the editor, and a court ruling. This unit balances four literary texts with seven informational texts, all of which support an examination of the essential question: What makes a dream worth pursuing?

Unit 4: All for Love asks the question, How are we affected by the power of love? and further develops students' grade-level goal of proficiently reading and comprehending high-interest fiction and nonfiction. This unit, which contains a nearly perfect balance of six literary texts with five informational texts, includes a highly varied mix of literature (two narrative poems, a sonnet, a Shakespearean play, a script, and a short story) and informational texts (a scientific article, a point-counterpoint selection, an excerpt from Frank McCourt's autobiography Angela's Ashes, and an obituary of Frank McCourt).

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After completing English 1, Part 2 CP, students will be able to:

- Determine the theme or themes in a text is a key to understanding its purpose.
- Analyze the evidence in a text and make inferences.
- Understand the difference between a word's denotation and its connotation.
- Determine the central or main idea of a text to understand the author's purpose, structure and message.
- Identify and determine the meaning of figurative language.
- Analyzing how a character's motivations develop, why they change, and how they influence the character's actions and interactions with other characters.
- Identify informational text elements to understanding the details, events, people, places, and main ideas of a text.
- Analyze how an author's purpose, such as to inform, persuade, or entertain, is related to the perspective, or point of view, that the author brings to the subject.
- Identify and analyze characters in a text to understand the plot and themes at play in a work of literature.
- Compare and contrast a Shakespeare play with its original source to gain a deeper understanding of the playwright's skill in transforming characters, plot, setting, and other text elements into a meaningful new work of literature.
- Analyze the poetic structure and how it influences a poem's tone, theme, and meaning.
- Delineate and evaluate a writer's argument and claim.
- Identify and analyze tone by paying careful attention to such aspects of a text as sentence structure and descriptive language.
